

WILL TAKE OVER ANGLICAN CHURCH

Bishop Johnston Will Arrive
Next Month for the Service.

According to reports which came to the city by the last mail, the transfer of the Anglican church here will be made by the Anglican Bishop to Bishop Johnston, of Los Angeles, April 1st. The information came in a letter received from Bishop Brewer, of Montana, by the Rev. Sydney Hooker of Butte, who is now here on a visit. In the course of this letter, it is said, the Bishop refers to the fact that there has been published in the mainland papers accounts of the troubles, and that Bishop Johnston has been chosen by the Presiding Bishop, for the duty of taking over the work here. Among churchmen here it is the opinion that Bishop Johnston will arrive not later than the middle of March, so that he may become familiar with the situation before actually taking up the work for which his visit is made.

N. H. Trombley, formerly time keeper in the United States Quartermaster Department for the transport service, leaves today in the Mowera for Victoria, whence he will go to Seattle and report for service again to Major Robinson, Quartermaster, who was stationed here until a few months since. Mr. Trombley has been here for the past nineteen months and has a good record for attention to duty. He has a fine letter of recommendation from Major McK. Williamson, the local department quartermaster to Major Robinson, and, as the transport service between Seattle and Alaska opens up in March, he feels that there will be an opportunity for him there. The details of the army here have been diminished in size to such an extent that many of the employees were dropped from the rolls. Mr. Trombley being among the number. He was one of the leading spirits in the Francis Murphy Club, and has aided the organization in many ways during the past six months.

It was a half hour later when the loss was discovered and for three hours Dr. Cooper searched for the missing rig without finding it. The police had been notified and their search was equally unsuccessful. At four o'clock in the morning the horse was caught in Nuuanu street, near Hotel, by a policeman who had followed the runaway down King street. The top of the wagon had been damaged and the seat lost. The wagon was full of peanut shells.
